

Nationalists to Keep Strength Up on Quemoy

By SPENCER MOORE

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Vice President Chen Cheng said today the Nationalists will not reduce the strength of their garrisons on the offshore islands.

Chen told the newspaper Ta Kuo (Great China) Evening News the Communists build up in areas facing the islands was for purposes of offense. For this reason, he said, the Nationalist garrisons could not be cut.

Chen's statement came amid reports from Washington that the United States would press Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek to reduce the off-shore island garrisons.

The Nationalists reportedly will not consider any sizable withdrawal unless the United States gives unequivocal guarantees of immediate intervention if the Reds attack the weakened outposts.

The United States has not been willing to do this so far. Washington's idea reportedly is to give Chiang's forces more firepower and better weapons so they can defend the islands with less troops.

This presumably was urged by U. S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy in two conferences with the Nationalist President Monday. But local newspapers including semi-official organs continued to denounce the idea of a cut in the off-shore garrisons.

McElroy visited military installations in the Pescadores Island today, between Formosa and the mainland, and then joined the U. S. 7th Fleet en route to Manila.

Nationalist officials continued to insist that the Communists would resume hostilities when it suits them. They contended that the Reds had extended their cease-fire for two weeks because they had lost the battle of Quemoy, and any reduction of the islands' garrisons would be a disaster.

IRS Mistake Honest, Says Spokesman

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Internal Revenue Service official reiterated yesterday that a letter suggesting Gov. Orval Faubus pay income taxes on the gubernatorial mansion was sent as the result of an honest error.

Curtis R. Mathis, district IRS director, said an investigation into why the letter was sent to Faubus is virtually complete.

"We're just not finding anything wrong," Mathis said. "The letter shouldn't have gone out, but from what I can find out—and I have certainly looked—it was an honest mistake."

Faubus revealed receipt of the letter last week and charged it was sent to intimidate him for his stand against integration.

The IRS, which had voided the letter before the Faubus charge, denied intimidation.

Man Declares Bombing Was Planned in May

ATLANTA (AP) — A man who said he might be killed for speaking his mind has signed a statement that the dynamiting of the Jewish temple was planned last May at a meeting of an anti-Semitic organization in east Atlanta.

Police said the informant dictated the statement in the presence of three officers late Monday night but asked that his name be withheld because his home might be bombed if the underground group learned what he had done.

Sgt. M. W. Blackwell quoted the man as saying he attended the meeting at which plans were made for the bombing but that he objected to the use of dynamite and was not invited to attend later sessions.

Between 40 and 50 sticks of dynamite were set off early Sunday against a wall of the temple. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

The informant said that one member of the group who had worked as an architect drew plans of the temple showing exactly where the explosive was to be placed. He said the dynamite was to have been obtained from Harlan, Ky., and set off by a man brought from Birmingham, Ala.

Police said the man's statement might prove to be the first real break in the investigation of bombings of Jewish structures in the South.

FBI agents joined with state and Atlanta authorities and with police from neighboring states in probing every angle of the statement.

The name of the anti-Semitic organization was not made public but police said they were told it had several members in every major Southern city.

Detective Capt. R. E. Little said four persons had been picked up on holding charges of suspicion of vagrancy and were still being questioned.

In New York, Henry E. Schultz, national chairman of the B'nai B'rith's Anti-Defamation League, said a list of anti-Semitic extremists would be turned over to Atlanta police.

Medical Award to Head of Polio Setup

NEW YORK (AP) — Basil O'Connor was named today as the first layman to receive one of the country's foremost medical prizes, the Albert Lasker Award. It was for his work in spearheading the drive to conquer infantile paralysis.

O'Connor is president of the National Foundation, formerly the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He was selected for the Lasker Award by a committee of the American Public Health Association.

The prizes in the fields of medical research and public health administration are provided by the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation named for the noted philanthropists.

In honoring O'Connor, the Public Health Foundation said he "probably more than any other layman of modern times has contributed significantly to the substantial conquest throughout the world of a major disease of childhood, paralytic poliomyelitis."

"Since the introduction of the Salk vaccine, the incidence of polio in the United States has declined by 80 per cent from an annual average of 38,700 cases in 1955 to 1957," the foundation added.

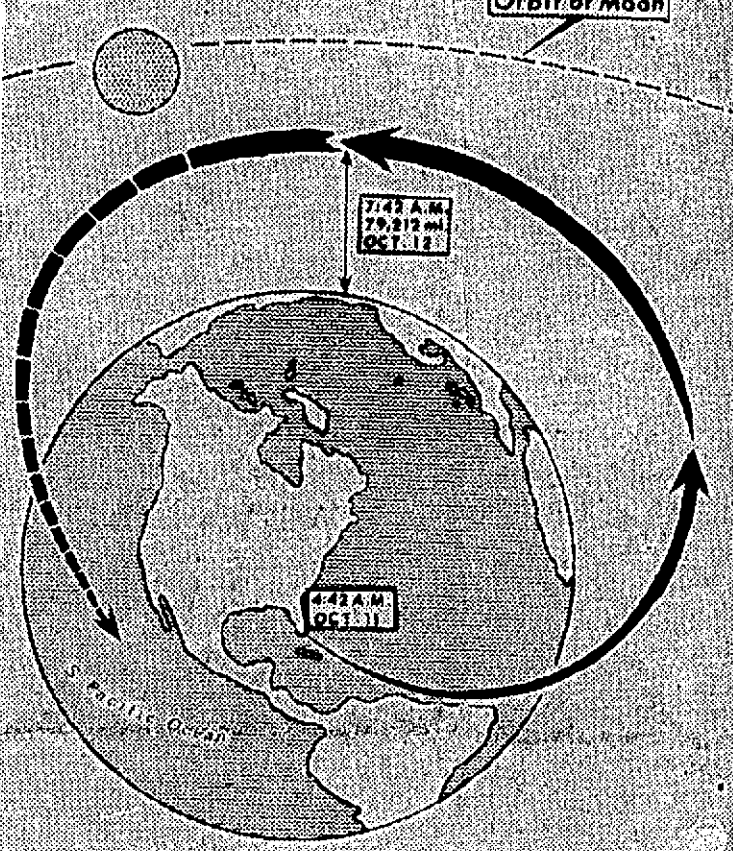

Dr. Jonas Salk developed the vaccine under one of the many projects sponsored by the foundation headed by O'Connor.

Others named as winners of the 19th annual Lasker Awards were Dr. Robert W. Wilkins of the Boston University School of Medicine for "distinguished contributions to the control of heart and blood vessel diseases through outstanding investigations in the

4-H Poultry Show, Auction Here Saturday

The annual Hempstead County 4-H poultry show and auction sale of Hy-Line pullets ready to go in the laying house will be held Saturday morning, Oct. 18, in downtown Hope.

The 4-H Club pullets to be judged in lots of 12 beginning at 9:30 Saturday morning were produced on clean range in shelters under the direction of County Agent Oliver L. Adams. The pullets have all been vaccinated according to the U. of A. recommendations for infectious bronchitis, Newcastle disease and fowl pox. Through post mortem examination at frequent intervals cockerels growing with the pullets were examined for intestinal health and treated for worms or other conditions not desirable if found existing.

The 4-H Club pullet rearing and management program is sponsored by the Sears and Roebuck Foundation through a grant of $500 on the purchase of the 1,000 birds to be placed in lots of 100 each with select 4-H Club members. The Corn Belt Hatcheries of Hope contributed a like amount so that it would be possible to secure 1,000 Hy-Line pullets valued at $300 at one day old.

Claude Sutton of Sutton Livestock Commission Company of Hope, will serve as auctioneer for the pullet sale which starts promptly at 11 Saturday morning.

The Sears Foundation will provide premium money and awards for the show. The awards will be presented by Mrs. Roy Taylor, Hope Sears store manager.

The proceeds of the sale which will consist of 12 select Hy-Line pullets returned by each youth will go to purchase a group of Hy-Line pullets to place with 4-H Club boys and girls in 1939. This feature makes the program self-perpetuating.

The 4-H Club boys and girls taking part include Peggy Hampton, Charles Lee, McCorkle, Marshall, McCorkle, Cecil England, Bryan England, Michael Samuel, Carroll McKee and James Cummings.

Second Bomb Hurlled at Jewish Temple

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A crude bomb hurled at the annex of a Jewish temple early today fell into an outside stairwell, exploded and shattered several windows in the three-story structure.

Damage to the rear annex of the Anshei Emeth Temple was termed "very small" by Rabbi Joseph Ginsberg, who serves the 700-member congregation. No one was in the temple or annex at the time, and there were no injuries.

"Nothing like this has ever happened here before," said Rabbi Ginsberg. "The local situation with regard to our relations with the community has always been very good."

Police said the bomb was fashioned from a two-inch pipe section, inches long with a two-foot fuse attached. The stairwell where it landed leads into the annex basement. Police reported the bombing had occurred about 12:30 a. m.

Robert Briscoe, former Jewish lord mayor of Dublin, will address a gathering at the Agudas Achim Synagogue in Peoria tonight, but Rabbi Ginsberg said he did not see any connection between the Briscoe appearance and the bombing.

Rabbi Ginsberg said that several years ago he served as chairman of the Peoria Mayor's Commission on Human Relations that helped desegregate a public housing project in this central Illinois city of 112,000.

"However, the project was carried out very successfully, and I fail to see how this could have had anything to do with the bombing," he said.

The temple, built in 1893, is five blocks from Peoria's downtown section. The annex was constructed in the 1920s, Rabbi Ginsberg said.

Rabbi Ginsberg, 47, came to Peoria 11 years ago from Dallas. Today's bombing was the fifth such incident in Jewish centers in the United States since mid-March.

Trailer Accident Kills Small Boy

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — A 3-year-old boy was killed yesterday while playing around a small 2-wheel trailer at his home in Higginson.

He was Rickey Lee Spinnery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Spinnery.

Authorities said a playmate in the wagon apparently shifted his weight causing the tongue of the trailer to lift from the ground. The steel tongue struck the boy in the abdomen. He died instantly.

All Around Town

Hope Water and Light Plant Commission last night negotiated a contract with Arkansas Power and Light Co. to furnish this city with electricity for 10 years.

The Commission submitted its proposal fair and squarely to the Hope City Board of Directors and to the people of Hope. If there was a complaint, the newspaper never heard it although it was pretty general knowledge that some of the plant workers objected as they naturally would, being worried about future employment.

Those that possibly can be placed by the city, the WML Commission which serves without pay has negotiated a contract which they think is best for this city and with an estimated possible savings of $60,000 a year, who can argue?

It occurs that residents are a world of happy residents. A word of thanks to the Board composed of: Mayor Dillard, vice president, Nan Shuler, secretary, Rachel Webb, reporter, Peggy McQuinn, Charles R. M. McGee and Lloyd

Board Protests Hearing Slated for Tomorrow

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A hearing before three judges of a federal appeals court tomorrow on the Little Rock school integration dispute was protested by the Little Rock School Board today as a "summary proceeding."

Some of the principal parties to the litigation will not even be represented at the hearing, the school board said.

The hearing involves validity of a plan—already banned temporarily—for leasing of Little Rock's four public high school buildings for use as private, segregated institutions.

Directly at issue is an appeal by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People from the refusal by Arkansas Dist. Judge John E. Miller to declare the leasing plan invalid. Judge Miller refused to accept jurisdiction, hold a special three-judge court should decide the question.

It was on this point that the NAACP appealed to the U. S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals here.

Richard C. Butler, a school board attorney, said in a brief filed today that the Little Rock Private School Corp. should be classified as an independent party to the action. Judge Miller also should be represented.

Butler said the school board cannot be required to "litigate" those questions which primarily and directly involve issues with third parties not before the court, Butler argued.

The school buildings, the board said, Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas closed the schools and that it was Faubus who announced the leasing arrangement. Butler added Faubus "did not take the school board into his confidence."

The Department of Justice announced a hearing on the matter.

Chicago Also Has Bombing Troubles

CHICAGO (AP) — Two black powder bombs today damaged two apartment buildings in a South Side white neighborhood into which Negroes have been moving.

No one was injured in the identical blasts that blew out the front stairways of buildings at 6819 and 6923 S. Morgan St. Police estimated the damage at $1000 to each structure.

John H. Schuldt, a retired painter who owns and lives in the two-flat building at 6819 said the Negro family to which he rented the first floor was one of several that moved into the block recently.

The tenants are John C. Daniels, 32, a post office employee, his wife and their two children.

The Negro families occupy the building at 6923. The owner, Kit Johnson, 35, his wife and their two children live on the first floor. James and Mary Branch and their five children live on the second.

Candidate Asks for Court Decision

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A candidate for Paragould municipal judge appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court yesterday in an effort to have his name listed on the November general election ballot.

The candidate, John C. Watkins, asked the high court to reverse a ruling by Greene Chancery Judge Lee Ward. Ward last Friday ordered Watkins' name removed from the ballot.

The court promised a decision Oct. 22.

Ward's ruling ordered that Watkins' name be replaced on the ballot by an independent, L. D. Rhine, a Paragould attorney. Rhine has been serving as municipal judge since the resignation of C. E. Thiel Jr.

The judge said Watkins had not filed as a proper candidate.

S. C. Publisher Takes Poke at Faubus

CHICAGO (AP) — A North Carolina publisher and author charged yesterday that Gov. Orval Faubus has encouraged "half-breed racemongers who bomb Jewish temples and Negro homes."

Harry Golden of Charlotte, N. C., said Faubus and Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia "don't think about what they are doing to a city of good will or to the white people and their children."

Golden is publisher of the Carolina Israelite, a monthly magazine, and author of "Only in America," currently high on many best-seller lists.

At a news conference before a speech here, he said politicians who announce mass resistance to Supreme Court rulings "actually help the Negroes by giving them a wonderful status of patience."

He added that some cities such as Chicago and Detroit are setting up "unfathomable volcanoes due to housing problems and attitudes of white people about the dark-skinned wanderers seeking better living conditions for their children."

Presbyterian Moderator to Leave L. R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rev. Dunbar H. Ogden Jr., a leading spokesman for moderates in the racial crisis here, is moving to Huntington, W. Va. to become associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church there, he announced yesterday.

Ogden has been pastor of Central Presbyterian Church here since 1954.

His announcement did not say if the school integration controversy figured in his decision and he was not available today for comment on that point.

Ogden was president of the Little Rock Ministerial Association when the dispute erupted last year. He supported the court-ordered plan for gradual school integration.

He recently received a citation from the ministers' group for "courageous Christian leadership" during the crisis.

Ogden said he had received a formal call from the Huntington Church and that his request that Central dissolve the pastoral relationship would be presented to the congregation on Oct. 26.

Ogden is a native of Mississippi. Central is one of four Presbyterian churches here which have announced that no one will be barred from services because of race. So far, however, no Negroes have been reported attempting to attend a white Presbyterian church, as they have at some other white Protestant churches.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James B. Henry of North Little Rock, who figured last year in an interstate child custody case, is back at the Cummins State Prison Farm.

W. P. Ball, director of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, revoked Henry's parole after Henry was fined for drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident in North Little Rock Municipal Court Oct. 8.

Henry had been paroled about a year ago. He had served one-third of a year sentence for robbery, burglary and grand larceny.

Henry and his mother, Mrs. Bertha Huddleston of North Little Rock, were charged with child stealing in Nebraska in 1957. Nebraska authorities charged that the pair took Henry's daughter, Marilyn Sue Henry, at gun point from a children's home at Lincoln. The child had been placed in the home pending outcome of a custody fight between Mrs. Huddleston and Henry's former wife, Mrs. Genelee Martin.

Last January Gov. Orval Faubus refused to extradite Henry and his mother to Nebraska. Huddleston's attorney, Guy E. Williams, in June granted custody of the child to Mrs. Huddleston.

Municipal Plant to Be Placed on Standby Basis

Hope's Water and Light Plant Commission last night signed a contract with the Arkansas Power and Light Plant for the purchase of wholesale power for the next ten years.

The transaction took place in the presence and with the wholehearted approval of the Hope Board of Directors.

Plans call for connection with the AP&L line on or before April 1, 1959. Immediately on completion of the line a five per cent reduction in electrical rates to residential and small users will go into effect, the Commission has announced.

The contract calls for 10,000 kws immediately, but unlimited power could be made available in event of demand from industry or other sources. The 10,000 kws about doubles the present output of the municipal plant.

The city plans to start soon on building a new loop which eventually will circle the city. This loop will assure maximum power at all points and at all times. Connection with the AP&L line will be made somewhere east of Hope, near the city limits. Fortunately power will be coming into Hope from two directions which assures continued current in the event of failures elsewhere.

Hope has always furnished its own power, even major water furnishing. The municipal plant will be placed on a standby basis and could always be quickly put into operation if the occasion occurs.

Purchasing outside power has been considered for years. The Commission made a detailed study of the proposal and conservatively estimates that purchasing wholesale electricity will benefit Hope by an estimated $60,000 per year, depending on the amount of current actually used. The difference being in the higher cost of operating a small plant.

Outstanding bonds against the municipal plant can be retired within three to four years in the new scheme, thus not actually costing the city a dime.

Members of the Commission making last night's negotiation were B. W. Edwards, Roy Anderson, Robert LaCrosse, Albert Graves and Lloyd Spencer.

As a result of tomorrow's hearing, the court's ruling could take any one of several forms. These included:

2. The ban against the leasing arrangement could be extended, pending determination of validity of certain Arkansas statutes employed by Faubus in the leasing plan.

Widow Admits to Embezzlement

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A war widow admits embezzling $54,000 from a department store to help support her four children and pay medical expenses.

The medical care apparently resulted at least partly from the embezzling.

"I got into worrying about it," Police Inspector Gil Dowd quoted Mrs. Flora Lopez as saying.

Dowd said Mrs. Lopez, 48, had signed an admission and told him the reasons she took the money from the City of Paris store.

She was a $50 a month cashier and wrapper, whose Filipino husband, Joaquin, was killed by American bombs during World War II near Baguio in the Philippines. As a result she had been getting $30 a month from the U.S. government.

Her statement said she had taken $80 a day during the past year and from $30 and $40 daily during the three previous years, Dowd said.

While she was sick, a replacement turned in more money each day, and police started investigating.

Bennet Refuses to Act in Dispute

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett yesterday refused to take official action in a dispute over the status of Mayor Mitchell Davis of Hoxie and other Hoxie city officials.

"I didn't recommend anything," Bennett said after meeting here with a delegation of about 15 Hoxie residents.

W. B. Howard of Jonesboro, attorney for the delegation, said the group wanted the attorney general to bring proceedings against the Hoxie mayor but that Bennett refused to do so.

Howard said the delegation contended that the mayor and other city officials had not been legally elected because the elections in Hoxie had been conducted on odd-numbered years, rather than even-numbered years as provided by law.

The attorney said law prohibits private citizens from bringing the proceedings asked of Bennett.

Last month, Mayor Davis was enjoined from holding the post of waterworks supervisor since that office was created while he was serving as mayor.

President Is Observing His 68th Birthday

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower celebrates his 68th birthday today on a generally joyous note.

But the anniversary has a somber aspect, too, in the farewell tribute the President arranged to pay to Pope Pius XII.

Eisenhower, pictured by aides as feeling fine, starts observance of the day with a salute from Republican leaders who are counting on him for much help in the congressional and state election campaigns.

With Mrs. Eisenhower also invited to the breakfast party, the GOP leaders had ready for the President a mammoth happy birthday card signed by the 600 well wishers expected at the affair. Also on hand was a huge floral piece shaped in the form of a cake.

Advance indications were the President would respond with a brief pep talk telling the Republicans again they can win in November if they will get out and work hard. Party candidates face uphill battles in many areas.

Eisenhower himself will take to the campaign trail Friday on a six-day tour into the Midwest and to the Pacific Coast.

The President arranged to sit with a coffee at the Lawson Hotel Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Frances Fore, chairman of national B&PW week, and Mrs. Robbie Wilson, club president, alternated at the silver service at the serving table that held a central arrangement of dahlias and geranium in a green bowl.

Thirty guests called during the hours of 7 to 8 o'clock.

Mrs. T. E. Logan, who is vice president of the Women's Work in the Synod of Arkansas, attended the fall synodical meeting at Pula-ski Heights Presbyterian Church in Little Rock Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchanan of Magnolia were the guests Thursday night of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Johnson, and were accompanied home by Mrs. Florine Buchanan.

British Urge Suspension of Nuclear Tests

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain appealed to the Soviet Union today to join her and the United States in a year's suspension of nuclear weapons tests Oct. 31.

That is the day the Big Three begin Geneva talks on the subject. British Minister of State Allan Noble also charges the Soviet government with "presenting an ultimatum by threatening to go on with its tests unless the West agreed to an immediate unconditional cessation for all time."

Noble told the U.N. General Assembly's Political Committee: "We want the cessation of tests only where real security will be achieved. They want us to agree now to renounce all nuclear weapons tests forever, whether or not there is ever any real disarmament."

"The cessation of nuclear weapons tests is not in itself disarmament. It will leave a number of powers to go on amassing nuclear weapons as much as they please. The suspension of tests, however, may increase confidence, and may help to bring about real disarmament."

Noble said that the Big Three were closest to some real agreement on the suspension of tests, which they are to discuss in Geneva. But he said it would be unrealistic to try to commit them to a particular course of action in advance.

"To facilitate the Geneva negotiations," he declared, "the United States and United Kingdom governments have offered to suspend their nuclear weapons tests for one year if the Soviet government will do the same."

Noble noted that a pending 17-nation resolution backed by Britain and the United States urged the three powers "not to undertake further testing while they were negotiating."

Noble said the Soviet Union by pressing its own resolution for an immediate, unconditional test cessation, sought to "stampede the Assembly into a hasty and unrealistic declaration."

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Central High football team lost six regulars to integration transfers yesterday.

Coach Gene Hall announced that Fallon Davis, No. 1 quarterback; Clarence Christ, defensive right tackle; Charles Cusick, No. 2 offensive tackle; linebacker Bob McWilliams; halfback Archie Dumas, and Gary Mobley, No. 3 quarterback, had transferred to county schools.

The six were the first Central squadmen to transfer, although the school has remained closed under order of Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Hall High has lost about 30 players to integration transfers.

Although the Central squad remained intact, the Tigers have lost two of five games this season. Hall, despite its player losses, is still victorious in four starts.

Confident Things Will Work Out

Hays arrived for a speech to-night before the First Baptist Church Brotherhood and a slide trip to Bonham, Tex., for a luncheon with House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Hays, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, touched lightly on political issues because of their possible involvement with church affairs.

He termed his visit to Rayburn a "social call," with some national problems to be discussed. He steered clear of any detailed discussion of Little Rock's school troubles.

"Certain legal phases of the problem (in Little Rock) remain to be settled," he declared. "I have every faith in our ability to find a way out of the difficulty without violence or loss of our

Church Split Indicated Over Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — There were rumblings of a possible denominational split here today as the focal point of Little Rock's racial integration troubles switched from schools to churches.

About 300 persons formed a Council of Methodist Laymen Monday night with the announced intention of combating church integration. They indicated that they would favor a split from the national Methodist Church if it doesn't change its policy.

And a segregationist minister claimed a victory when a Southern Baptist group did not move to oust him from its ranks, as he had predicted it would.

Even as the city awaited another crucial federal court ruling from St. Louis Wednesday on the status of its closed high schools, there were indications that church segregation will play a bigger role in the ever-growing struggle here.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, Arkansas president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said she has tried to dissuade a Little Rock Negro from his campaign to integrate a white church. But she said she was unable to get any assurance from Albert Hudson, 45, that he would give up his efforts.

Hudson and other Negroes have appeared at the Second Baptist Church to two consecutive Sundays. They were turned away the first time and on the second occasion left when asked to listen to the sermon over a speaker in the basement.

The Methodist Church's General Conference has taken a stand favoring racial integration since the Supreme Court's 1955 desegregation rulings.

As the Pulaski County Baptist Assn. opened its annual meeting Monday night, the Rev. Hesley Pruden arrived predicting steps would be taken to eject him because of his strong stand against integration.

The predicted ejection move never came. Pruden is president of the pro-segregation Capital Citizens Council.

Ruth Nolze of Texarkana.

During the supper hour, Miss Brenda Hamm and Miss Sue Moore had charge of serving the assembled group. Harvey Nelson of Mena directed the recreational period.

Rev. W. D. Golden of Mena led the program of songs, accompanied by Paul O'Neal at the piano. Mr. O'Neal and Miss Mary Louise Copeland are counselors for the local MYF group which was host for the meeting.

District president Jerry Rodgers of Mena conducted the business session at the Fall Rally which was attended by approximately 125 members, representing 10 Methodist Youth Fellowships in the district.

DOROTHY DIX

How Much Interest Should Lady Show?

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am a woman who has reached the age of discretion. I'm very much interested in a co-worker who is a bachelor. He has shown some interest in me, but I'm afraid of appearing too forward so I've discouraged him. How can I make it plain that I like him, without being too obvious? — Stella M.

Dear Stella: At what time of life does a woman reach the age of discretion, as far as men are concerned? Is there any such time between the cradle and the grave? Your problem, in effect, is how much of the love-making should a woman do. There was a time, in the days of the old-fashioned novel, when a girl won her man by disdaining him. Those days are gone forever — and good riddance. Today's man likes a woman who admires him — and shows it. Be glad to see him, enjoy the time you spend together, even if it's just a few minutes at the water cooler. Be reluctant to say goodbye. But don't hound him with notes or phone calls. Don't pounce eagerly on every date he dangles before you and don't pry into his personal life with questions like "What did you do last night?" Steer a neutral course and you'll do all right.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I was going with the most popular boy in school and every girl envied me. We weren't going steady, but I did love him. We broke off and now I can't even accept a date from another boy. I don't even know why we broke up, but he's on my mind constantly and I can't try to have fun with anyone else. How can I get him back? He still doesn't go steady with anyone; just has occasional dates. — Philippa

Dear Phil: Isn't it something that for a while you dated the most popular boy in school, and now have some dreamy memories? Most girls don't achieve so great an honor. You're growing up and must learn to accept things like this with adult philosophy. You can't mope your life away because one football hero isn't ready to settle for just one girl. Life goes on, so must you. Get back in the swing while you're still wearing the aura of being the famous one's girl. It will help win the interest of other boys. Cash in on it.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My friends and I were much amused by a recent letter in your column from a middle aged widow whose children were married, and who had the physical handicap of wearing a hearing aid. It was signed "M. M." Well, the circumstances and initials are exactly the same as mine. There is one big difference, however. This "M. M." is not lonely. I enjoy my work immensely, belong to two clubs, attend church regularly and would suggest to your correspondent that she should not avoid social groups because she's hard of hearing. Admit your handicap (other folks have 'em too). Laugh with your friends when you can't hear them. Find someone who is more lonely than you. Life can still be so good. — M. M. No. 2

Dear Mrs. M. M.: It gives me great pleasure to relay your letter not only to M. M. No. 1, but to any other readers with a handicap. Retreating from society is no cure.

for loneliness; the remedy is to meet and associate with people who are always more understanding than we think.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

The boy I have been dating told me the other day I'm trying to boss him. So I stopped asking him to call me or to meet me. We've agreed never to date others, but the other night after work he took a girl out for a soda. Am I right to be upset? — Duley

Dear Duley: You don't catch on easily, do you? You were warned that your bossiness annoyed the boy friend — and you were bossy! Now the poor guy can't even treat a co-worker to a soda. That scarcely constitutes a date, my dear.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I met Bill at a party this summer, just before he joined the navy. Last week his picture was in the paper, and accompanying it was a notice that Bill would like to hear from his friends and classmates. He was very friendly to me when we met, and I wonder if it would be proper to write him. — Alyce

Dear Alyce: Certainly. Since the boy has asked for letters, I'm sure yours will be welcome.

Woman to Die for Poisoning Her Daughter

By HUGH SCHUTTE

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Plump, blonde Annette Donovan Lytle, convicted and sentenced to die for poisoning her daughter, awaited word from her attorneys today on chances for a new trial.

A Bibb County Superior Court jury convicted the 33-year-old widow of murder Monday night. Her attorneys immediately filed notice of appeal, and this automatically stayed the date of execution, which had been set for Dec. 6.

Mrs. Lytle is also accused by the state of poisoning two husbands and a mother-in-law with arsenic. She was tried only in the death of her 8-year-old daughter Marcia Elaine Lytle.

The former restaurant owner accepted the death verdict calmly. The only visible reaction was when her sinister skin reddened and she bit her lip.

Judge Oscar Long set a precedent when he told Mrs. Lytle she might remain seated while sentence was pronounced.

Long set a hearing on the motion for a new trial for Dec. 12. If the buxom widow loses her appeal, she will be the first white woman to die in Georgia's electric chair. Only one woman, a Negro, has been electrocuted in this state.

Murder Trial at Osceola Opens

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) — The defense opens its case today in the trial of a 35-year-old Negro accused of murdering an Osceola liquor store operator.

The state presented and rested its case against Arthur Hayes of Luskorn on opening day of the Mississippi Circuit Court session yesterday.

Hayes pleaded guilty in a preliminary hearing to fatally beating Justus Edgington, 67, during a robbery of Edgington's liquor store Aug. 8. He later changed his plea to innocent.

He claimed there was no motive. She said she received only $1,750 from insurance while her expenses, including hospital bills, special nurses and burial, amounted to $5,000.

The state charged she murdered for hate and greed.

She acknowledged an abnormal interest in "root doctors, spiritual advisers and fortune tellers."

Army Zooms to No. 1 Spot in U. S. Grid Poll

NEW YORK AP — About the surest way to move to the top of the weekly Associated Press national football ranking is for an unbeaten team to knock off a litherier unbeaten Notre Dame team, and that's just what Army did.

The Cadets, on the strength of their 14-2 victory Saturday, were voted into the No. 1 spot today by the sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll.

Auburn, still unbeaten, slipped to second place. The Cadets received 77 first-place votes and a point total of 1,611, to 54 first-place votes and 1,434 points for Auburn.

Three teams dropped out of the top 10 entirely. Notre Dame, fourth a week ago, dropped to 12th. Oklahoma, a good second last week, dropped to 11th as a result of its one-point defeat by Texas. Pittsburgh, No. 10 a week ago, fell out of sight through being trounced by Michigan State.

Texas came up to 7th from 16th by defeating Oklahoma. Navy moved from 12th to 6th on its victory over Michigan, and LSU came up from 11th to 9th by whipping Miami 41-0.

Ohio State, victor over Illinois, moved up from fifth to third place, and Wisconsin moved from sixth to fourth. Michigan State also advanced, jumping from ninth to fifth through its showing against Pittsburgh.

Clemson was in 10th place. The top 10, based on 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, and 8 for third place (in parentheses):

1. Army 77)	1,611
2. Auburn 54)	1,434
3. Ohio State 9	1,087

7. Texas 3)	702
8. Mississippi 2)	632

Australians Doing Well in Sports World

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland AP — World record miler Herb Elliott Davis Cup... Olympic swimming champs... British Open golf championship—and now the world amateur team championship of golf.

That's the proud sports record today of Australia, a country with a population of only about 10 million.

The Aussies added the amateur golf title and won the Eisenhower Trophy by defeating the United States in an 18-hole playoff over St. Andrews' Old Course Monday.

The Australians had a 222 total and the United States 224. The teams had tied with 918 strokes after 72 holes ending last Saturday.

Twenty-nine nations competed in the championship, first of its kind.

In the playoff, Australia's Peter Thomson shot 30-40-75. Bruce Devlin 37-45-72. Bob Stevens 40-35-75. and Donnie Baehli 37-41-73.

On the American team, U. S. National Amateur champion Charlie Cox, Oklahoma City, had a 38-35-73; Billy Joe Patton, Marysville, N. C., 38-37-75; Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor, Pomona, Calif., 39-37-76; and Bill Hyndman, Philadelphia, 40-38-78. The low three scores counted towards the team aggregate.

NO TEDDY, THIS—Just about able to reach the paw of this male Alaskan brown bear is the three-foot Bruce Sherman of Beachwood Village, Ohio. The Longhorns have now climbed to seventh place in the Associated Press national football poll, on the basis of their 15-4 win over the Oklahoma Sooners.

The Razorbacks did find time for a snappy 45-minute signal drill yesterday. The rest of their session was given over to the Steers. They watched films of the Texas-Oklahoma game and heard assistant Coach Merrell Green's scolding reports. Green also held a chalk session on the field to complete the picture.

There was no talk about the Porks' four losses, or even about the most recent, to Rice. Coach Frank Broyles and his staff haven't yet even run a film of the Rice game for the squad.

All players except the captain, Billy Michael, suited out for the practice. Michael missed the Rice clash because of flu, but trainer Bill Parrell said he should be back in pads today.

Three players who were shaken up in Saturday's game appeared at full strength in the workouts. The three, quarterback Mike Gossay, guard Bill Lupton and center Barry Switer, showed no signs of injury.

The Aussies added the amateur golf title and won the Eisenhower Trophy by defeating the United States in an 18-hole playoff over St. Andrews' Old Course Monday.

The Australians had a 222 total and the United States 224. The teams had tied with 918 strokes after 72 holes ending last Saturday.

Twenty-nine nations competed in the championship, first of its kind.

In the playoff, Australia's Peter Thomson shot 30-40-75. Bruce Devlin 37-45-72. Bob Stevens 40-35-75. and Donnie Baehli 37-41-73.

On the American team, U. S. National Amateur champion Charlie Cox, Oklahoma City, had a 38-35-73; Billy Joe Patton, Marysville, N. C., 38-37-75; Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor, Pomona, Calif., 39-37-76; and Bill Hyndman, Philadelphia, 40-38-78. The low three scores counted towards the team aggregate.

Three-Way Tie for Lead in Southwest Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That three-way tie for the lead in Southwest Conference football ought to get broken up a bit this weekend. Six of the teams play games counting for the championship.

Texas Christian, Baylor and Rice are all tied for first by beating Arkansas. None of the other schools have played conference games.

This week TCU plays Texas A-M, Rice tackles SMU and Texas Tech. Arkansas, Texas Tech, a member of the conference but not yet eligible for the championship, hosts Baylor.

Texas, the only undefeated team left in the conference, worked out in sweat suits at Austin Monday. Mike Ceils of Houston was moved from the alternate team to the starting spot at right guard.

There were no major injuries from last week's victory over Oklahoma.

Conch Darrell Royal of Texas said he was worried about Arkansas. But Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles wouldn't comment on his team's prospects. He put the Razorbacks through a 15-minute signal drill, then showed films of the Texas-Oklahoma game.

TCU Coach Abe Martin said the game with A&M should be a toss-up. He denied his club should be a 6½-point favorite.

Martin ran the Horned Frogs through a light drill without pads and studied single wing plays used by the Aggies.

A&M's first two teams worked without sweat clothes while the other units scrimmaged. Coach Jim Myers praised the work of tailback Charley Milstead, tackle Ken Beck, center Roy Northrup and fullback Gordon Leboeuf in the Maryland game.

Baylor stressed offensive maneuvers in preparing for Texas Tech. Coach Sam Boyd said "the boys realize that a lot of work must be done and are really getting after it."

Baylor fell to Duke last week. Texas Tech held a brief practice in a light rain, then watched pictures of the loss to TCU Coach Dewitt Weaver praised the showing of E. J. Holub, center, and guard Gene Bentley.

Don Meredith of SMU was able to walk without crutches Tuesday, but the ace passer still may miss the Rice game. He suffered a hip bruise against Notre Dame and missed the Missouri game.

Meek promoted two players, fullback Mike Hackey to the No. 2 squad and Billy Polk to the No. 2 right-halfback post.

Rice regulars took a light workout while the reserves scrimmaged. Coach Jess Neely said he was pleased with the scrimmage.

Many teams have split their ends and sent the winner out wide on "sleeper" plays. But Army's "lonesome end" is different. He sets up housekeeping out on the flank.

He doesn't even go into the huddle. He gets the plays by some device, which is top secret and classified info at the academy.

The main value is that the opposition is unable to solidify its defense. The secondary can't be used to close formation and, as a result, can't support the line as quickly. In other words, the enemy must send out a "lonesome" halfback or two to keep the end company.

Calendar of Events
Boe Chapter No. 412 OES will meet Wednesday, Oct. 15, at 7:30 p.m. at Davis Chapel Methodist Church.

The Yegger Band Mother's Club will hold its regular meeting Wednesday, Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m. All members are asked to be present.

Special Notice
Anyone interested is asked to attend a meeting Thursday, Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Yegger High School for the purpose of organizing a Tiger Booster's Club.

There is a great need for such an organization in Hope. Other towns and schools have them, so should we. I feel that we owe this much to our boys who are giving their all to try to hold up the reputation we once had.

There has been much criticism about the team this year as to why they are making such a poor showing.

Anyone interested in helping the boys, will meet with us Thursday night. This meeting will answer many of your questions.

FACT

Platinum can be stretched out so fine that an ounce of it could be stretched into a wire that would reach from New York City to New Orleans. About half of the world's supply comes from the Ural Mountains in Russia. About 7 per cent comes from Colombia. Platinum is harder than copper, nearly as pliable as gold.

British Hold Airman After Secret 'Leak'

LONDON AP—The Air Ministry said today a British airman is being held in connection with a suspected leak of rocket secrets.

An announcement named the man as Senior Aircraftman M. J. Brown, formerly stationed at Edburgh, Field near Britain's rocket testing base at Woomera, Australia.

The Air Ministry did not say to whom secrets were leaked. But a London newspaper, The Daily Mail, reported that investigators had arrested Brown after checking on reports that secrets from Woomera were getting into Soviet hands.

It was from Woomera that Britain's first space rocket, the Black Knight, was fired five weeks ago.

Edinburgh Field is an airstrip where equipment and supplies for Woomera are flown in. It is a highly secret one, and the only persons allowed in are trusted scientists and technicians, and servicemen on special assignment.

Brown was reported to have been arrested in Australia and then flown to Britain.

Encouraged in Drive Against the NAACP

LITTLE ROCK AP—Encouraging response to his drive against the National Ass'n. for the Advancement of Colored People was reported yesterday by Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett.

Bennett said he had received letters from several Southern congressmen indicating they would follow up a suggestion he made that special tax privileges be taken away from the NAACP.

The attorney general showed the letters to a newsman but asked that the writers' names not be used.

The letters came in response to an anti-NAACP drive Bennett announced earlier this month. He put suggestions to lawmakers in 14 Southern states pointing out ways to curtail NAACP activities. Included in suggestions was one that the next session of Congress withdraw the NAACP's tax exemption privileges.

Court Agrees to Review Virginia Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to review a decision that voided three Virginia laws aimed at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In another case, Louisiana school officials were denied a Supreme Court review of a decision striking down a requirement for a certificate of eligibility before admission to state institutions of higher learning.

The Virginia decision was given previously by a special three-judge U.S. District Court in Richmond. The high court merely said "probable jurisdiction is noted." This means the court will hear the case.

The laws voided were chapters 31, 32 and 33, all passed by the Virginia General Assembly at a 1956 extra session. Chapters 31 and 32 required organizations which engage in racial litigation, or collect funds for such purposes, to register with the state. Chapter 33 provided punishment for barratry, the offense of stirring up litigation.

The special federal court had ruled the laws violated the U.S. Constitution's guarantees of equal protection and due process of laws.

Virginia appealed to the high tribunal to review and reverse the special court. The appeal said that "even assuming for the sake of argument that there had been a threat of prosecution, the circumstances did not justify the interference of a court of equity" (the special court).

The Louisiana decision was given by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, on suits by Negroes who successfully contended their constitutional rights had been violated.

Appeals to the high tribunal by the Louisiana State Board of Education and the Board of Supervisors of Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College contended among other things the circuit court had exceeded its authority.

An act of the 1956 legislature says registration must be refused unless certificates of eligibility and good moral character, signed by former school principals and superintendents, are presented. The circuit court said another act of the same legislature "provides, in effect, that the principals and superintendents will lose their jobs if they sign the certificates."

British Search Cyprus Points

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Two thousand British soldiers carried out a search and screening operation today in three village strongholds of EOKA, the Greek Cypriot terrorist organization.

It was watched by Maj. Gen. K. T. Darling, now director of anti-EOKA operations and commander of the Cyprus district.

The villages, some 10 miles east of Nicosia with a total population of about 5,000, were surrounded before dawn. The British troops moved in later and herded all Greek Cypriot males between the ages of 12 and 60 into barred wire pens to await their turn for screening.

The guarded Cypriots then passed in front of a heavily hooded police informer who, for extra safety, sat in an armored car peeping out of the driver's slit.

Each villager marched to a point directly in front of the vehicle and stood still while the informer looked him over.

President Praises U. S. Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today praised American diplomats as "soldiers of peace." He said the United States needs more of them.

Eisenhower spoke at Georgetown University where he received an honorary doctor of laws degree and participated in the dedication of a "Hall of Nations" auditorium in the University's School of Foreign Service.

The President also unveiled a bronze bust of the late Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, the Jesuit priest to whom the new building was dedicated.

After the brief ceremonies, crowds outside in the bright sunlight started singing "Happy Birthday To You" immediately after Eisenhower smilingly stood at attention to take the band's "Hail to the Chief" salute. Eisenhower will be 65 Tuesday.

Admires U. S. But Brags on Reds

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet science lecturer says the Soviet Union admires U.S. engineering progress in sending up a moon rocket. He added that the feat in no way detracts from Soviet leadership in the space field.

This was the first Soviet reaction since the moon rocket was launched Saturday. It came Sunday at one of the many public lectures given on weekends in Moscow.

Pravda limited its coverage to a short news agency dispatch from New York saying the rocket had failed to achieve its purpose.

Wool differs from hair because its fibers are solid while hair fibers have a hollow core in the center. The first invention which was patented in Britain in 1858.

The soft look of wool jersey is an important one in fashions for fall into winter. It can be practical, high fashion or really alluring, depending on the occasion. We show it in three moods here, all of them designed by Jaco. The cocktail suit (left), a Herbert Rodehorst design, has two-button easy jacket and slim skirt worn with red silk blouse with self-bow. Clare Potter does a two-piece ensemble in soft gray (center). Slim skirt is topped by paisley print overblouse that dips low in the back. Red raincoat (right) is a cheery idea for a dark and rainy day. This has rounded shoulders, tapered lines and patch pockets set high. Neckline closes with scarf tie. Any one of these fashions would be ideal as part of a travel wardrobe.

Chapter XXXII

Lane was sitting on the cot holding the bottle of liquor when fangling spurs announced Tom Cole's presence.

"Pretty soft, eh? Where did you get that?"

"Put brought it."

"The lawman wasn't really concerned with the bourbon, other than he didn't want Lane to have things too easy. Glancing both ways along the corridor as though determining if anyone else was within earshot, Cole said wearily, 'Lane, what kind of a man are you, anyhow?'"

"One of these cursed Texans, just like you."

"That sister of mine is up at the hotel, crying her eyes out over you. Wants me to turn you out of jail. Swears you couldn't possibly have killed Draper. Have you been having an affair with Karen behind Murdo's back? And all the time making out like you was courting Irma?" His tone was filled with disgust.

Lane said, "That's none of your business."

"You might get out of this mess."

Lane said, "For her sake, will you do me a favor?"

"What do you want?"

"Tell her I said not to worry. Tell her I said the man who did kill Draper wouldn't live to brag about it."

Cole nodded. "I'll do it. But it seems to me you've still got your head set on trouble, Lane."

Cole jangled his spurs back toward his office. An hour dragged by. Scharf didn't appear. There was no one but the softbooster guards around the jail building; at least Lane figured there wasn't, since all the loud talk had died down. Presently he heard Tom Cole coming back.

"I talked to Sis. She said tell you she thought you were a fine man. She claims she's never known a better one, and said she would do whatever you said."

"Why don't you turn me out."

"I ain't sure yet what I'm going to do," Cole said. He knuckled his mustache. "Corday and Rudnick was sober in the Three Aces telling everybody how you shot Verdugo, and you near got hung, too; did you know it?"

"I figured something like that was going on. Sure, I shot Verdugo and I would do it again."

Lane explained.

"That's all the way they tell it," Cole said. "They claim they was on their way home from town and met you on the Quarter Circle road. You was soaking wet and mad about the stampees, and cut down on them without warning. After you knocked Verdugo off his horse, they lit out. Said they went back later to see if the Mexican was dead, and they couldn't find him or hair of him."

"They put Verdugo on his horse and too him to the Quarter Circle. I went down there and got him," Lane told about taking Webster and Corday to Mitchell's headquarters.

Cole said, "Is he at the Four Arrow now?"

"Should be. I'm not sure of it. Is Dr. Brewer in town? Hell, I know."

"I'll get to the bottom of it," the lawman said presently. "Come daylight, I'll look a bone and see if Verdugo's there. He'll tell me the straight of this whole business."

"As far as I know for sure who had the gun, Cole said, and laid a hand against the wall of the weapon in his belt sheath. "Louis beat in the last hour or so."

Lane shook his head.

"Wish he'd come around every now and then. I never know if have a deputy or not."

Cole went out, apparently to hunt for Scharf, and obviously in a very irritable mood indeed.

Lane picked up the bourbon and swallowed another mouthful of it in an effort to stave off a spell of sleepiness.

Karen Mitchell, he told himself, knew that Scharf had killed the banker, and while Karen may have loved Draper enough to shed tears over his death, she was really crying for herself. She faced a x p o s u r e. Lane had always thought that Karen and the banker planned to kill Karen's husband. Maybe Scharf intended to supplant Draper in the girl's life.

If so, Lane couldn't really feel sorry for Karen.

Still, he wasn't sure she had known that Draper planned to do away with Murdo. They had been planning to steal the Four-Arrow, though, and combine it with the Quarter Circle. So something would have to be done about Karen's husband.

No matter what Karen had planned to do, she hadn't done it. Now, no longer under Draper's evil influence, she might make Murdo a good wife. She was sorry now and scared to death. And she was unable to turn to her husband or brother for help.

Lane was suddenly aroused by a voice. Carlotta Mendoza's voice filled with feminine savagery. "Take your filthy hands off me!"

"But, lady, you can't!"

"I will!"

After a couple of seconds, the man on guard said loudly, "Watch out fellows, she's taking Lane a six-shooter!"

Another guard said, "Six shooter or not, he'll still be locked in. Only two keys to that cell, Cole and the deputy have both of them."

Carlotta's voice wasn't savage when she addressed Lane, through the bars. It was low, tear-choked.

"You keep my Elmer and my Joaquin, now I keep you!"

Bride of 12 Hours Dies in Accident

COLUMBUS, Ind. (AP) — A bride of only 12 hours died today of injuries suffered when her honeymoon car crashed while being gaily pursued in an impromptu wedding charivari.

Mrs. Wilma Jean Minor, 18, Columbus, was injured fatally when the auto carrying her and her new husband, Billy, 20, over turned near the little town of Alert Sunday.

The groom, who escaped injury, said they were being chased by a car carrying three youths he didn't know. Minor lost control on a curve and crashed—just half an hour after starting the honeymoon trip.

Two of the pursuing youths climbed out and started toward the overturned car to help lift it off the injured woman, Minor said, but the third shouted: "Don't go over there. You might get in trouble." The trio then left without identifying themselves.

Both Sides Pay Tribute to Pope

BERLIN (AP) — Western and Communist dignitaries of this divided city today paid homage to the memory of Pope Pius XII at a pontifical requiem mass celebrated on the East-West sector border in the Church of St. Sebastian.

Berlin's Bishop Julius Döpfner reminded the congregation of the late pontiff's concern for oppressed Catholics in East Europe. His sermon was heard by representatives of the Communist East German regime as well as West German and allied officials.

Brandon Denies 'Deal' Offer From Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Attorney Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, Ark., denied today a statement attributed to him that the Faubus administration offered him a deal if he would quit the integration fight.

Branton, Negro attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was quoted in an Associated Press dispatch as saying:

"I could have become the first Negro assistant attorney general of Arkansas if I had used my influence to get Gov. (Orval) Faubus off the hook through a cooling-off period."

Branton told the AP in Little Rock "someone has apparently taken some statements out of context from a speech I made yesterday in Charleston, W. Va. I have not received any offers for any deal from the Faubus administration or from Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, whatsoever, though certain offers have been made to me by other parties. Any lawyer in Arkansas knows that the governor has nothing to do with appointments in the attorney general's office."

But the Charleston, W. Va., Gazette whose reporter Harry Ernest covered the Branton speech before the NAACP yesterday, said the report of Branton's statements was correct. The attorney spoke extemporaneously.

The newspaper carried the same quotations in its morning edition. Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said the statement attributed to Branton was untrue and that Faubus has never made a recommendation to him for any assistant.

"Any report that Branton has been considered or even mentioned for a post in my office is an unmitigated lie," Bennett said.

The attorney general has been engaged in a running legal battle with the NAACP and recently set suggestions to other Southern attorneys general for legal action designed to curb the activities of the organization.

Americans Moving Quite a Lot Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — About one in every five Americans moved last year, the Census Bureau reported Monday. That's about the same proportion as in each of the past 10 years.

The bureau said its annual mobility survey indicates that 23 million people moved from one house to another between March 1957 and March 1958.

Two thirds of the moves — 22 million or more — moved to another home within the same county. One third, or about 11 million, moved to a different county and about half of these went to another state.

The west continued to have the most mobile population with 26.7 per cent moving during the 12 months period. The rates for other regions: the South, 22.8 per cent; the North Central States, 18.2 per cent, and the Northeast, 14.3 per cent.

People in rural nonfarm areas moved more than those living in either urban or farming regions. As in other recent years, non-whites did more moving than whites. One fourth of the non-whites moved during the year compared with one fifth of the whites.

Police Chief Sees Man Shot to Death

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A 25-year-old farmer was shot to death here today under the eyes of Police Chief C. O. Hensley.

Hensley said he was going to the bank, heard shots and looked up to see D. L. Russell fall to the sidewalk.

The police chief said he ran to the scene and was handed a .43-caliber pistol by Lee Moore, 64, a defendant in an alienation of affections suit filed by Russell.

Russell died about four hours after the shooting.

Prosecutor Ed Gordon of Morrilton filed a first degree murder charge against Moore.

Moore was named in a $300,000 alienation of affections suit filed by Russell in Faulkner Circuit Court last June. The suit alleges that Moore induced Russell's wife, Mrs. Mildred Russell, to leave him.

The Russells married in 1942, have four children.

Hensley said Russell formerly lived on a farm owned by Moore near Guy but that he recently has farmed near Conway.

Russell was struck in the right chest by a single bullet.

Witnesses said two shots were fired. The other apparent missed.

Hensley said the gun Moore held had him held two expended and three live cartridges.
